

Captions can be missing letters in words or the captions can be hard to read because a lot of captioning comes up at once for example on the local news. Video captioning on the local news is simply absent. Do not cut the funding for captioning more better captioning is needed not less.

I believe that television reception can be a big factor in how captions are received